TOWNE ALKE

"Just for Fun"

By RAS BERRY

The linotype operator says that this minister in Butte taking a monkey into the pulpit with him reminds him of what Bugs Baer said about William Jennings Bryan standing up in the Democratic convention in New York and denying the theory of evolution in spite of all the evidence in front of him.

We had a headline in the paper Tuesday which read like this: 'VOTING IN THE MORNING LIGHT' and according to the returns from some districts it was a cinch we was wrong for some of the body politic sure must of voted in the dark.

This is a picture of Ernie Tomkins telling Fay Parks that the busiest bozo he ever seen was a one-armed paperhanger with the seven year itch.

The bus. mgr. is back having been clean to Vancouver. After glancing over the job printing that was done in his absence he said maybe he better go away again and let Ras run the show. Pretty good for ye ed, eh?

Sam Levy says ye ed should ought to have wired him business is fine for the love of mike don't come home.

Fred Hansen says that with society wives quitting the movies to try their hand at being shop girls and with 'shop girls' wishing they could be society queens or movie stars, it is plain that nobody is satisfied with his lot, even if his lot is a corner one on a main boulevard.

There was a Ford drove into town the other day by a gal and it carried a license from Kansas. There was nothing on the Ford but wheels, the motor and a box on which the gal was seated. The whole setup minus the gal looked like this here picture.

Mrs. Smith says that on the back was a sign saying what we ain't got we don't need.

Ed Kelly never wastes his time. When he feels sleepy in the afternoon he goes and gets a hair cut and snoozes while the scissors manipulator is shearing the hirsute adornments that grace his dome. The boys at the Post Office Barber shop say they don't charge him anything extra for catching up on his shuteye while getting his head clipped.

Ras told Everett Malone he was No. 13 to vote and Everett says if numbers meant anything he should ought to be No. 23. Skidoo there Everett, you old joker.

Cal Alverson has got a deal in escrow and Bob Deinger called him up the other day and says Cal what is your wife's name is it Ethel and Cal says No and Bob says well you better come down here and see me and so Cal did and when he got to the bank Bob told him that the escrow hounds found out that C. P. Alverson was sued for divorce recently and wanted to know if Cal was the guy. Well Cal says he didn't know it if he was and reported that his wife's name wasn't Ethel anyway and there must be another C. P. Alverson whose domestic relations ain't quite so serene as Cal's, but anyway Cal was wired and went home to find out if he was being sued without having been told about it and when Mrs. Alverson says why No you funny boy why they went into a clinch and this picture was snapped a few minutes later.

Anyway Torrance and Lomita went strong enough for Peck to create plenty of comment in the Hall of Records, where they said you folks down there sure must have a real protest against the bid of supervisors and from now on they should ought to sit up and listen to you. And most of us only hope that's the way the supervisors themselves will look at it.
